

Pathways to Ministry Scholars Program

Faculty Recommendation

The student listed below is applying for the Pathway to Ministry Scholars program offered by Bluffton University to students of sophomore or junior standing to encourage them to further reflect upon and consider their call to pastoral ministry. The student will be expected to participate in the following activities during the time they are receiving the scholarship.

- Take one religion course during each semester of their sophomore year.
- Participate in a trip to a seminary sampler at Associated Mennonite Biblical Seminary in Elkhart, Indiana.
- Attend six luncheons intended specifically for ministry scholars throughout the semester.
- Attend and participate in an end-of-year dinner.
- Provide a written self-assessment of your discernment process in consideration of ministry as a vocation and an evaluation of the program.

Effort will be made for the scholarship recipients to represent the gender, racial, ethnic, and denominational diversity of our student body.
