Ty Cook
Head coach

Ty Cook is now in her fifth season at the helm of the Bluffton College softball program. It didn’t take long for Cook to make her mark at Bluffton as she guided BC to a Heartland Conference tournament championship and the school’s first-ever 20-win season in her first year as a head coach in 1999. That year she was named the HCAC coach-of-the-year, and followed up that performance the following year with another 20-win season.

Cook’s total of 72 victories ranks second on Bluffton’s all-time wins list and she has coached eight first team all-league players the past three seasons. She owns a record of 33-18-1 in HCAC games for a .644 winning percentage.

Cook is an assistant professor of health, physical education and recreation at Bluffton College.

Megan Aiello
Assistant coach

Megan Aiello is in her second season on the softball coaching staff at Bluffton College. Last season she helped guide BC to a third place finish in the Heartland Conference regular season standings and brings to the squad both collegiate playing and coaching experience.

Aiello was a two-year varsity letterwinner for Anderson College, S.C., where she played left field. During her final two years at Anderson she coached a junior varsity high school softball team in the Anderson area.

Aiello earned a bachelor of science degree in physical education and is now pursuing a masters of education degree from Bluffton College while coaching the Beavers. She is also an assistant coach with the BC volleyball squad, serving as a varsity assistant and the head coach of the junior varsity squad.

A three-sport athlete in high school (volleyball, basketball and softball), Aiello also played club volleyball and has playing experience throughout the southeastern United States.
Seven starters return for Bluffton College softball squad in 2003

Fifth year head coach Ty Cook returns seven starters from last season's Bluffton College softball squad, which finished third in the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference regular season standings, and hopes are high that that experience will take the Beavers to even greater heights in 2003.

"A II of our positions except pitching and one outfielder will have veterans returning," said Cook, who ranks second on the Bluffton all-time wins list with 72 victories in just four seasons for a school-record average of 18 wins per season. "We're 2-deep at every position—that's a great feeling to have. The people who are second in line will push the starters. We'll be solid and deep and our hitting has come a long way from last year. We really don't have any significant weaknesses."

Afer collecting win totals of 19, 20 and 20 in 1999, 2000 and 2001, Bluffton lined up with seven new starters in the field last year and that inexperience caused BC to get off to a bit of a slow start. The Beavers earned just three wins in their first 17 games, but the second half of the season was a different story as Bluffton went 9-7 to end the regular season and carried the number two seed into the H C A C tournament. Last season Bluffton finished 9-4-1 in the conference and 13-22-1 overall in a season highlighted by an 8-2 record at home and a six-game H C A C winning streak.

"I've asked for more intensity in practice and I have gotten that," said Cook. "This team has a lot of desire and heart. We've been second in the conference for too many years. Our goal is to be the number one seed in the conference tournament and then win the conference tournament. That's what we expect."

Among the seven returning starters is a pair of players with A II-H C A C honors on their resume. Junior leftfielder A mber Fitzwater earned first team honors last season after batting .357 in H C A C games and compiling a .400 on-base percentage. She fashioned an 11-game hitting streak during the season and led the team in runs scored (19) and doubles (5). Junior catcher A manda Payne is also back after earning A ll-H C A C honors as a freshman when she batted .375 against H C A C pitching.

Payne shared the catching duties last season with now-sophomore M ichelle Pleiman, who batted .286 in league games despite missing several games with an injury.

A round the infield, returning starters include sophomore M andy Snider at shortstop, senior M elissa A lexander at second base and seniors Stephanie Rush and M elissa Neal at first base. Rush led the squad last season in doubles (8) and R B I (17) and her .296 batting average is tops among all returners. Neal, whose .275 average last season is second only to Rush's among returners, will also see time at designated hitter. Sophomores J ackie W ells and L ane L eedy will step into the third base spot.

A ddling depth to the infield is sophomore B ecky H eller and freshmen M ichelle D e V au l t, K ate B arringer and Lindsay Miller.

Joining Fitzwater in the outfield is sophomore centerfielder A lison L ange, who was the only player to start all 36 games for Bluffton last spring. She had seven multi-hit games, which was second only to Rush's total of nine, on her way to batting .240 with nine R B I and 14 runs, which ranked second on the team.

Bluffton's rightfielder last season, Paul Fry, is expected to miss the first half of the season with a knee injury suffered during the basketball campaign. She started in 27 games last spring and batted .239. Freshmen M ichelle M et zger and Lindsay Miller will add depth in the outfield.

Although Cook sees no major weaknesses in this year's squad, there is a position without much experience—that being the pitching staff.

Gone is two-time A ll-H C A C selection E mily K urtz, who graduated in May with nearly every Bluffton career pitching record. A iso not returning to the field are pitchers S tacy H err, who will serve as a student-assistant coach, and J aneen A rps. Cook will hand the ball to a pitching staff that although is inexperienced, is talented.

"Our pitchers will still be one of the strengths of this team," said Cook. "Sarah Betz has a lot of pitches and she has great movement on those pitches. Jenny Lehman has the opportunity to take a lot of innings this spring, and J esica R osen garten will be out there too. We will still be dependent on our pitchers this season. The ball starts with them, but we have so much experience behind them."

Bluffton will begin its season next week at the Rebel Spring Games in Kissimmee, Florida, and Cook has her team's attention focused in the right direction.

"We have talked more about being mentally strong this year. We've set a lot of goals, the first of which is to improve every day. If we do that, the wins will take care of themselves and we'll peak at tournament time."
